

EPISCOPALIANS REFUSE TO FORBID MARRIAGE OF DIVORCEES

NO ALARM FELT OVER INFANTILE PARALYSIS CASE

Health Officers Say There Is No Fear of Epidemic.

QUARANTINE MAINTAINED

Charles Vose, Victim of Disease, Improves.

There is no occasion for alarm over the one case of infantile paralysis in Oklahoma City, there is no fear of an epidemic here.

This is the statement today from Dr. George Hunter, city health commissioner, and other health officers of the state and county, who have combined their efforts to protect the people from a spread of the disease.

No New Cases.

No new cases of infantile paralysis have developed in the city and the rigid quarantine of the Vose home at Sixteenth street and Hudson avenue where Charles Vose is ill with the dread disease is well maintained.

Dr. George Hunter stated this morning that there were no new developments in the case. Premises of the Vose home have been fumigated and none is allowed to leave or enter except the physician in charge.

The condition of Charles Vose, the victim of the disease, was described as much improved this morning by Dr. William Taylor, the attending physician.

Boy Improved.

"The lad is very much better this morning," said Dr. Taylor, "and will probably continue to recover."

It is now believed that the boy's right leg, which first was believed to have been so badly paralyzed that it would be affected for life, will in time become strong enough to warrant its use, although it is not believed that it will return to its normal condition.

Whiteford Makes Statement.

The board of health has the local infantile paralysis situation pretty well in hand and there is absolutely no occasion for any alarm on the part of parents of school children. The McKinley building, the Vose home and the private school which Charles Vose was attending have all been fumigated. No more danger attaches to attendance at the McKinley school than at a theater—it is as much.

This was the statement this morning of Superintendent J. A. Whiteford of the public schools.

Children Safe in School.

A member of the Vose family had been attending the McKinley school, but had been absent for more than three days previous to the time of the discovery of the disease in Charles Vose. "I see no reason why any pupil should stay from school because of the disease," said Mr. Whiteford, "and the schools will not be closed under any circumstances unless the board of health orders such action. Children are far safer from disease in school than when dismissed and allowed to go to other public gatherings."

24 Cases in State.

From the office of Dr. John Duke, state commissioner of health at Guthrie, it was reported this afternoon that nothing would be done with respect to the local infantile paralysis situation unless an epidemic developed. The local authorities have the situation so well in hand, it was said, that no action is necessary.

Twenty-four cases of the disease have appeared in the state this year. Only a small percent of this number has resulted in death.

Quarantine Extended.

Children in six homes in addition to the Vose home are confined by a temporary quarantine. These are William Raymond, 708 West Fifteenth street; H. G. Akin, 329 West Twelfth street; C. B. Ames, 400 West Fourteenth street; Robert M. Scott, 134 West Thirtieth street; James Chenoweth, 508 West Sixteenth street and G. C. Kerr, 700 West Eighteenth street. The children in these homes had been pupils in the private school with the Vose boy.

Molasses Takes Place of Sugar

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 14.—Granulated sugar sold at $15 a hundred pounds on the local market today, because, it was said, the supply in local wholesale houses was exhausted. Only a half dozen dealers are said to have supply enough for the day. Wholesale dealers said the clog of the refineries at New Orleans is the cause.

Officers Give Up Chase for Negro

General search for the negro who assaulted little Thelma Pierce, in Capitol Hill was abandoned this morning. City and county officers were tracing clues concerning the negro's identity and residence.

Harley Pierce, stepfather of the girl, returned this morning from Geary. The little girl is recovering from effects of the attack on her.

Men! Your Cute Wrists Attract Eyes of Women

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Just as a woman's ankle is attractive to the masculine sex, so the wrist of a man is attractive to women. This view was given by Mrs. Rebecca B. Fogg, a witness in the supreme court in the alienation suit of Frederick William Hunter, lawyer, against John Barrett Kerfoot, literary critic.

Mrs. Fogg was a witness for Mrs. Anna Delleville Hunter, the wife whose affections the husband alleges were won from him by Kerfoot, his brother-in-law, for which he is asking $50,000 damages.

Mrs. Fogg said that Hunter once asked her what would make a man of his age and station in life more attractive to younger women, at the same time adding that Mrs. Hunter was losing her charm for him.

"Did you tell him?" asked counsel for Hunter.

"To be sure I did. I told him that I thought as other women friends of mine did that it was the shape of a man's wrist that counted."

Kerfoot, the defendant, denied the promiscuous kissing attributed to him and Mrs. Hunter and also the stories of appearing in her presence attired in pajamas.

WOMAN WITNESS AGAINST KNIGHT IN MURDER CASE

Clothes of Victim Exhibited in Courtroom.

The clothes in which George Long, fire chief of the Wilson & Company packing plant, was killed last November, were exhibited this morning to the jury in Judge Hayson's court which is trying John Knight for the murder.

Woman Testifies.

The feeling with which the defendant regarded Long was brought out by the testimony of Mrs. J. A. White, a forewoman of Wilson & Co. laundry, who declared on the witness stand that John Knight had told her, "Long is a dirty cur and ought to be killed." That conversation took place in May, 1915, just after Long had obtained the job as fire chief of the plant, she said.

The prosecution also presented a picture in which Jesse Knight, a brother who is now serving a 20-year sentence in the state prison for the murder of Long, posed with a revolver. This was exhibited to offset the testimony of character witnesses for the Knight brothers.

Letters Read.

Letters written to John here while Jesse was in Tennessee on a visit, were read to the jury. In one of them, dated in October, 1914, Jesse told John to get rid of Long if there wasn't too much danger in it, but that he had better wait until he got back so he could help him.

It will be next week before the trial is completed. Jesse Knight, brought here from the penitentiary to testify in his brother's behalf, has not yet been placed on the stand.

Greek King Fears German Invasion

LONDON, Oct. 14.—"When a high diplomatic personage besought King Constantine to change his policy," says the Daily Telegraph's Athens correspondent, "The king replied, 'I prefer to lose my throne rather than endanger Greece. I am convinced that in fifteen days Rumania will exist no more.'"

Greece went into the war then, after the conquest of Rumania the irresistible German forces would be directed against Greece and she would share the fate of Serbia and Rumania."

Court Orders Banker to Pay Wife Alimony

Olustee Man Must Pay $75 a Month; Judge and Attorney Have Tilt.

Although she has spent $193 in the past two weeks, Mrs. Anna Norton said she can barely exist on $125 a month when Judge Clark asked her to make a close estimate this morning.

Mrs. Norton is suing for a divorce from her husband, James Norton, a banker of Olustee. This morning's hearing was on the wife's petition for $200 a month temporary alimony and $250 attorney's fees. This request was granted by Judge Hayson on the allegations in the wife's petition when her suit was first filed. At this morning's hearing before Judge Clark, Norton testified he only makes $125 a month and is worth only $8,000. Mrs. Norton said her husband was worth $50,000.

The wife said she had only one dress and not a cent of money. She asserted she had no winter clothes and must have some money to procure some. She is now staying with her mother at 801 West Seventeenth street.

Judge Clark stated that the $250 attorney's fees granted was the largest that had ever been granted by the local district court in recent years.

"I have never granted fees to exceed a third of that amount except in one case where the evidence to be collected required a large expenditure. The policy of this court is to grant only moderate temporary attorney's fees," he said.

When Judge Clark ordered the temporary fee to be $25, E. J. Giddings, attorney for Mrs. Norton, refused to accept that amount and declared he wouldn't accept any temporary fees if he couldn't have all he asked for.

"The order has been made," answered Judge Clark. He allowed Mrs. Norton only $75 a month temporary alimony. The divorce suit will be heard by Judge Hayson sometime next week.

PRESIDENT SAYS GUARDSMEN MUST STAY ON BORDER

Tells Governor Whitman Presence Is Necessary

STILL DANGER OF ATTACK

Denies Object Is to Complete
Military Training.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 14.—President Wilson, in a letter to Governor Whitman of New York, said Monday and made public here today declared that the emergency which caused the sending of the militia to the Mexican border "unhappily still exists."

He added, however, that he believed conditions in northern Mexico are improving and that "in the near future" it probably will be possible to "do more than has been done to relieve the embarrassment under which organized militia regiments have necessarily suffered."

Cannot Set Date.

President Wilson wrote to Governor Whitman in answer to a letter from the New York executive regarding the New York militia organizations on the border. The president told Mr. Whitman that it is impossible to set a date on which the remaining New York regiments there can be released.

Danger of Attack.

The president in his letter declared he had been advised by the war department that a withdrawal of the militia at any time would leave the border "in a state of peril" and that "the lives and property of the people of the United States."

In his letter the president paid a high tribute to the character of the militiamen on the border and denied

SHAWNEE MEN FACE CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Charges of conspiracy to violate the federal interstate liquor shipment laws are hanging over Benjamin Bond, W. B. Grant and Elmer Roberts of Shawnee. The technical charge against them is conspiracy to knowingly deliver intoxicating liquors shipped in interstate commerce from Texas into Oklahoma to fictitious persons. Roberts is an employee of an express company at Shawnee.

The three men were arrested at Shawnee yesterday by Deputy United States Marshals D. P. Miller and J. A. Brown. They were brought to Oklahoma City and when arraigned before United States Commissioner Ernest Chambers, pleaded not guilty. They were released on bonds of $2,500 each. The preliminary hearing was set for next Saturday.

Federal officials here today pointed out that the case against the three Shawnee men is practically identical with that against William Creekmore and others.

Cowless Milkman Draws Down Fine

M. Finkelstein, proprietor of the Southern Dairy at 304 East First street testified in municipal court this morning that he did not have any cows. That was part of his defense to a charge of selling adulterated milk. Finkelstein explained that he acted as a middleman and bought milk from supposedly honest farmers and sold it without changing its quality.

Dr. Doughty, milk inspector, and C. E. Clifford, city chemist, testified that milk sold by Finkelstein had been adulterated and contained too much water. Finkelstein ran off from Motorcycle Officer Ray Frazier who had been sent to serve a complaint on him. Finkelstein was fined $5 and costs.

Woman Becomes Bride of Adopted Son She Reared

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 14.—A strange psychological case, in which the love of a mother for her son by some queer mental twist, has developed into the feeling which grows up between a man and the woman who desires most in all the world, was made here when Mrs. George M. Lahverte, 58 years old, silver-haired and with the marks of a life of toil upon her, became the wife of her adopted son, Joe, now a man of 32.

Smiling through her tears and inordinately happy, Mrs. Lahverte, whose name still remains the same, although she was divorced several years ago, received congratulatory calls from her neighbors in her home in Highland Park.

"I just had to marry him," she said, still excited over the event. "He had fairly besieged me with proposals of marriage during the past four years. I told him I was too old, but he wouldn't listen to me. So, what else could I do? Joe came to me when he was a little fellow only 8 months old. He has always been a good son and I know he will be a good husband."

The man who now has the unique distinction of being the husband of his own foster-mother, is a clean-cut, well-spoken specimen of manhood. He is employed in a local automobile body factory and makes good wages.

PASSENGER SHIP PURSUED AT SEA BY SUBMERSIBLE

Freighter Bovic Witnesses a Race in Atlantic.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—When the White Star freighter Bovic sighted an eastbound submarine in the Atlantic Friday morning she was apparently in pursuit of a Danish passenger ship, the Hellig Olav, according to observers on the deck of the Bovic, which arrived here today.

Puts on Full Speed.

The nationality of the submarine was not identified. The Bovic in fear of attack because of being a freight ship, put on full speed and headed directly west. At the time she passed out of the sight of the other two vessels the Danish boat still seemed to be endeavoring to escape from the submarine. The weather was clear and the Hellig Olav was between two and three miles distant at the moment she was first observed, with the submarine about one mile to the Dan's stern. This was about 8:30 a. m. when the Bovic was approximately 200 miles east of New York.

Many Americans Aboard.

The Hellig Olav left here Thursday for Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports, carrying thirty-six passengers in the first cabin, thirty-seven in the second cabin and stateroom passengers. Many of those in the cabins are Americans.

Carries No Contraband.

Representatives of the Scandinavian American line said here today that the Hellig Olav carried no contraband and that they did not believe her captain would undertake to escape from a submarine. The line has sent a wireless message to the ship asking for an account of the circumstances.

DEPUTIES VOTE AGAINST CHANGE IN CHURCH RULE

Proposal Rejected by Lower House of Convention.

LEFT UPON CLERGYMEN

Some Speakers Argue Plan
Would Punish Innocent.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—The proposed change in the canons of the Protestant Episcopal church forbidding the marriage of persons divorced for causes arising after marriage, regardless of the cause, was rejected by the house of deputies of the general convention today.

Difficult for Clergy.

Speakers arguing for its adoption, generally conceded that no legislation of the church can put an end to remarriage, but asserted that the proposed law would help the church to live up to its marriage service which binds a man and a woman "until death do us part." It was pointed out that the present canon, providing that clergymen shall not solemnize a marriage for a divorced person unless he or she was the "innocent" party to the divorce, imposed a difficult problem on the clergy, particularly where a divorce is believed to have been obtained by actual collusion.

May Drive from Church.

Other deputies urged that adoption of the proposed canon would cause the "innocent" to suffer with the "guilty" and would drive Christian men who obtain a divorce out of the church.
